At the urging of Kathleen Harman, 26 people gathered to form the Ocean City Hotel-Motel-Restaurant Association.

They shared a common belief that “much could be done to benefit the town and businesses through the strength generated by one group”.

Dues were set at $25.

March 18, 1971

A meeting was held in the Ocean City Library in an effort to reactivate the Hotel-Motel-Restaurant Association of Ocean City. Kathleen Harman called the meeting to order.

The original association was formed in 1964 and had some major projects. These were read by Mrs. Harman. First, she felt, would still be appropriate; others have been outdated.

Ms. Harman offered to furnish us with national information for organization and a membership drive. Twenty-six people were present and all expressed willingness to join the organization and work in its behalf, as it is believed that much could be done to benefit our town and business through the strength generated by such a group.

Milton Conner made a motion that a membership drive be started at once with dues of $25.00. This was seconded by Cashier Hickman and unanimously carried.

Lilona Conner made a motion that temporary officers and a board of directors be nominated or volunteered in our best interest. Can be generated and to organize a membership drive. This was seconded by Chuck Berry.

Kathleen Harman was nominated as chairman by Steve Phillips and seconded by Kate Harrison with unanimous approval of the group.

Milton Conner will serve as temporary secretary and the Board of Directors will consist of Eleanor Kelly, Frances Hill, Kate Harrison, Chuck Berry, Cashier Hickman and Steve Phillips. This group will meet at 7:30.

The membership of the Ocean City Hotel-Motel-Restaurant Association held their annual awards and installation of officers banquet recently and Susan Cropper was named recipient of the Paul Hazard Award.

The Paul Hazard Award is annually presented to someone selected as the prestigious member of the year, based on service to the association.

Cropper, a past president of the association, was recently chairwoman of the Spring Trade Exposition, chairwoman of the association's first spring brochure and the planner of the first HMRA travel trip, in which members went on a tour to New York, and a second trip, which carried members to a Kenny Rogers performance.

Paul Hazard, namesake of the annual award, was the one who formed the nucleus which became the Ocean City Hotel-Motel-Restaurant Association. The award was presented to Cropper by Shirley Hazard.

Gary Fischer, director of Tourism and Community Relations, installed new officers and directors as follows: Thelma Connor, president; Granville Trimper, 1st vice-president; Bill Salvatore, 2nd vice-president; and Eleanor Kelly, secretary-treasurer.

Immediate Past President Alberta Harrison was presented an award by new President Connors for her service during the 1984-85 term of office.

Directors installed were: three-year directors—Ellen Adkins, Bob Givarz and Tom Helder; two-year directors were: Elected Stan Kahn; and Re-elected...

Tourism center fund drive off to good start

Fundraising efforts in Ocean City to collect private donations towards the establishment of a Maryland Lower Shore Tourism Center in Worcester County have gotten off to a great start.

Ocean City fund drive chairman David Bryant reported this week that $30,000 of the resort's $50,000 goal has been collected so far. Separate fundraising activities are also being conducted in the rest of Worcester County and also in Somerset and Wicomico Counties.

The entire effort is being spearheaded by Del. Mark Pilchard, who has received a pledge from State Sec. of Transportation Lowell Bridwell that if the Lower Shore raises $100,000 in "seed money" for the project, the state will build the proposed tourism center.

TWO $500 donations were made this week to the Ocean City fundraising drive for the Maryland Lower Shore Tourism Center. Donating $500 on behalf of the Calvin B. Taylor Bank is Jim Bergey, vice-president; and donating $500 on behalf of B.E.S.T. Motels (Beachmark, Executive, Sahara, Tides) are Hugh Wilde, Sr., Ross Wilde, and Hugh Wilde, Jr. Accepting the donations is David Bryant, chairman of the fund raising drive in Ocean City for the tourism center.

A $5,000 donation was made to the Maryland Lower Shore Tourism Center fund drive by the Ocean City Hotel-Motel-Restaurant Association represented by treasurer Eleanor Kelly. The donation is presented to David Bryant, Ocean City chairman of the tourism center fund drive.

GOING FOR IT. Four more generous donations were made to the Ocean City fundraising drive for the Maryland Lower Shore Tourism Center this week. Fund drive chairman David Bryant happily receives checks from four local firms represented (l to r) by: Dennis Parker, assistant vice-pres. of Home Bank donating $500; Rose Brous, owner of the Flamingo Hotel donating $500; Janice Gohl of the Fenwick Inn donating $650; and Paul Wall, comptroller of Phillips Seafood Restaurants donating $1,250. The Ocean City fund drive has already collected $25,000 of the group's $50,000 goal to help raise funds for the construction of the tourist information center in Worcester County.
